DETAILED ACTION

1. The preliminary amendment dated 9/30/04 has been entered. Claims 21-44 are pending.

Specification

2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:
 - a.) The status of the parent application cited on page 1 of the specification needs to be updated.Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. Claims 41-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 41 is vague. While the preamble of the claim recites a method for detecting a specific binding member in a test sample, the body of the claim fails to recite any step for detection of the specific binding member.

Double Patenting

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA

Art Unit: 1641

1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

5. Claims 21-44 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-20 and 22-24 of U.S. Patent No. 6,361,958. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because patent '958 claims a microfluidic device and method with essentially the same limitations as the instantly claimed microfluidic device and method.

Patent '958 claims a microfluidic device comprising:

- i) a first microchannel;
- ii) at least a first entrance port and at least a first exit port for the transportation of at least one test sample;
- iii) a fluid propelling component that controls the flow rate of said test sample;
- iv) a detector that detects a binding pair in said test sample; and
- v) a recirculating arm that recirculates said test sample back into said first microchannel;

wherein said first microchannel comprises a plurality of spatially distinct regions upon which specific binding pair members are immobilized.

The microfluidic device of patent '958 differs from the instant invention by including a detector that is not part of the instant invention.

However, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art that the microfluidic device of patent '958 reads on the instant invention because the open "comprising" language of the instant claims does not exclude the detector in the '958 microfluidic device.
